THE NEW GOLFER JOURNEY
THE FIRST TWO YEARS
The Development Team at Wales Golf has been talking to new and lapsed golfers taking part in New2Golf and other beginner coaching programmes in 9 of our clubs over the period 2016 - 2018, to find out how they felt about their progress, what was important to them, and how clubs could best support them in their golfing journey.

From participants’ responses, we’ve put together some guidance which we hope all clubs will find helpful.
BEFORE THEY START . . .

The majority of participants heard about the programme through word of mouth -

so encourage your club members to spread the word! Print some flyers for them to give to family, friends, work colleagues, fellow gym members, local coffee shops . . . .

SOME BIG CONCERNS THAT CLUBS CAN ADDRESS WERE;

What to wear
(even if assured there was no dress code for beginners, they didn’t want to look inappropriately dressed).

How about putting some photos of previous N2G groups on your website or flyer to show what people wear?

Equipment
Make it clear on your website/Facebook/flyer and any other printed material that golf equipment is all provided!

Finding
Around
Way

Clear signposting is a must! A new golfer may not even know what a driving range looks like.
Of course your PGA Professional/Coach will be patient, positive and encouraging!

Here are some other things beginners liked:

- Social interaction, e.g. having coffee together in clubhouse after lesson
- Continuity of coaching – same coach each week
- Use of technology – video analysis, e-mailing lessons so they could practise at home
- Integration of the ‘science’ and ‘theory’ of golf with the coaching and practice of the skills

However the participants weren’t so keen on mixed groups (beginners and improvers, or adults and children) – so consider the make-up of the group carefully.
ON THE COURSE

Your PGA Professional’s approach and the nature of your course and facilities may determine when beginners first go on the course during a lesson. But going on the course to practise outside of lesson times is totally different – beginners talk about feeling ‘intimidated’, ‘daunted’, ‘nervous’ of upsetting others, and their lack of knowledge on rules and etiquette such as letting people play through. Some even practised elsewhere due to apprehension about going out on the club course!

SO WHAT HELPS DIMINISH THESE FEELINGS?

- A time set aside when beginners have priority on the course
- Beginners advised as to the ‘quieter times’ when it would be more suitable for them to practise
- Walking participants round the course so they know the layout
- Integrating beginners with more experienced golfers through buddy/mentor schemes or fun competition
MEMBERSHIP

HOW CAN CLUBS MAKE IT MORE LIKELY THAT THE BEGINNER WILL CONTINUE IN MEMBERSHIP?

Offer a menu of membership options. Your new golfers could;
- Be Retired
- Be working full time
- Be working shifts
- only be able to play in school hours
- need the flexibility of a points membership

How can you provide good value membership for each?

By giving new golfers an informative membership pack - info on membership options, weekly club programme, club contacts, golfing etiquette, etc.

By providing a 2 to 3 year structured pathway, including continued coaching, from trial to full membership
INTEGRATION WITH EXISTING MEMBERS

The majority of beginners don’t just want to learn to play golf, they want to be part of the club. But getting to know existing members can be difficult if clubs don’t help! New golfers appreciate all efforts made by clubs to include them in activities and introduce them to others. Some suggestions:

- A members’ welcome evening
- Fun competitions where groups comprise of at least one member and at least one beginner (adapt rules/scoring to ensure beginner plays a part in the team)
- Encouraging members to take the initiative to talk to new golfers in the clubhouse – without being too pushy about joining, handicaps, etc.
- Encouraging members to consider new golfers if they have second-hand clubs to sell/give away
- Buddying/mentoring from club members, including previous New2Golf participants who may understand best how a beginner feels
- Organising tea/coffee with members after lessons
- A member (or rota of members) helping with beginner coaching
- Fun competitions where groups comprise of at least one member and at least one beginner (adapt rules/scoring to ensure beginner plays a part in the team)
So your new golfers have taken up the next stage, e.g. the first tier of membership. What will keep them progressing and in membership?

Some suggestions from our Year 2 groups:

- Keep reviewing your memberships options.
  Are there good value options to suit all circumstances?

- Encourage newer golfers to play with other members rather than staying in their ‘comfort zone’ of playing with their own cohort.

- Ensure regular club communications, even if not yet full members - so they feel like club members rather than the ‘New2Golf’ group’. They can see what to aspire to in the future.

- Are they integrating with existing members? Is there more you could do?
  eg. social events, fun events

- Give them incentives to progress through the structure - some events may be open to all while others (and not just the serious competitions) are only open to those with a handicap.
In year 1 of the focus groups, so many new golfers told us they weren’t interested in getting a handicap … they just wanted to play socially, with family and friends. GUESS WHAT.. by Year 2, most of them had handicaps or were well on their way towards getting one.

SO WHAT MOTIVATED THEM?

- Going on a golfing weekend with a partner who played
- Being able to go on a golfing holiday abroad with others of the cohort
- Going on golfing ‘awaydays’ to other clubs
- Being able to play competitively among their own social golf group
- Being able to play in club competitions
How fast new golfers climb the progression ladder will depend on their reasons for playing, confidence, ambitions and the time they have available. There were vast differences in rates of progress, from those who had little time to practice and were slowly progressing toward putting in their first card, to those who in year 2 were already playing competitively for their club. There are two ladders, one based on competence and confidence and other based on progression. This is because even though some players were progressing to a handicap and going into competitions, they still lacked confidence and only sometimes felt like a competent player.
IT’S NOT JUST THE GOLF.. IT’S THE PEOPLE

Why starters will decide to play at YOUR club –

What were your main reasons for joining this golf club?
Please select all that apply

- Friendliness of the club
- Membership gives good value for money
- My friends/family are members
- Availability of coaching
- Quality of coaching
- Opportunity to gain a golf handicap
- Facilities available at the club
- Opportunity to play in competition
- Location/convenience
- Social programme at club
- Liked the course

The main reason

FRIENDLINENESS OF CLUB
THE PEOPLE OUR YEAR 2 PARTICIPANTS APPRECIATED...

COMMITTED ORGANISERS

People who continually engaged with the new golfer cohort (e.g. captains). The pro can’t do it all – they’ve got next year’s new golfers to coach as well!

PGA PROFESSIONAL

Available to give ad hoc lessons, advice on equipment and clothing. Women appreciated professionals who stocked the shop with a range of female items.

MENTORS

Existing members who volunteered to play the course with new golfers, helping with course management, rules and etiquette, confidence boosting. Less formal mentoring arrangements worked better e.g. mentors volunteering when it suited them and paired with different new golfers each time.

ENCOURAGERS AND WELCOMERS

Any other members who interacted with them socially, encouraged their progress and enjoyment of golf, suggested meeting up for a game, offered to come along with them to their first club competition, invited them to an awayday or other event, etc.
ANYTHING ELSE?

Here are a few more things new golfers asked for; your club is probably doing some of them already, but there may be others you could consider:

- More advice on equipment/clothing, more availability of ladies’ equipment/clothing in the pro shop – otherwise, discount arrangements with local stockists.
- More dialogue between PGA professional/coaching staff and club management so management have a better idea of new golfers’ needs.
- ‘Starter sets’ of golf clubs available to buy.
- Weekend course time available for new golfers.
- More information on handicaps (including 9 hole options).
- Reciprocal arrangements with other clubs for New2Golf participants to play at a reduced rate.
- Monthly socials for all new golfers.
- More consistent communication channels - e-mail, text, Facebook or What’s App, whichever works best – ask the group!
WE’VE DONE ALL THIS AND STILL THEY WON’T JOIN!!

PEOPLE WHO WERE NO LONGER ENGAGED REPORTED:

• Lack of time to improve e.g. working full time, child care responsibilities
• Membership options were not value for money, often due to lack of time
• Joined a different club, often because of family connections
• Preferred to pay and play

TAKE A LONG TERM VIEW

If your club has given these new golfers a great golfing experience and a warm welcome, when the time is right you want YOUR club to be their first choice. So..

• Invite them to become a social member
• Keep in touch with them once or twice a year
• Invite them to future New2Golf lessons
• Offer a discounted pay and play rate for previous New2Golf participants

AND IN THE SHORT TERM . . .

The average conversion rate to trial membership is 57% in Wales. If your conversion rate is below this even though you’ve followed our advice, look at who you’re targeting for New2Golf, perhaps target other markets where people are more likely to have the time and motivation to engage more regularly with golf. Ask your Development Officer to help you as they have access to the latest research on target markets for golf!
FINALLY....

The new golfers we spoke to described golf as ...

ADDICTIVE

ENJOYABLE

SOCIABLE

They want to continue playing and progressing – your club is an important part of their golfing journey!

We’re going back to talk to these golfers in 2019 and will keep you updated with new insights!
