Frequently Asked Questions

The Competition

Q. Can I play the Championship in Conjunction with other events as the club?

A. Yes. The Wales Back2Golf Championship can either be stand alone or played alongside any existing medals or competitions you have planned?

Q. Why can the Championship be either medal or stableford?

A. So clubs can run the Championship alongside more competitions planned in a potentially busy period for competition golf, and so it can suit the individual clubs' members.

Q. Why would I choose to run the Championship at my club over multiple days?

A. So clubs have maximum flexibility to fit alongside existing schedules and to allow as many members of your club to compete as possible. This competition is mixed for both members

Q. How do you collate the result if run over multiple days?

A. Simply put all the results together and the lowest score wins. There is no need to calculate a CSS and make adjustments. In the event of both male and female competitors in a medal competition, results are to be used according to the players score to par.

Q. Why no CSS Calculations for each day?

A. Not all clubs are running qualifying competitions at present, so results according to course par scores are to be used.

Q. How do I return the results and what information do I need to send?

A. Please return the name of your club winner, their score (and where possible scorecard or similar) and the total number of competitors at your club to championships@walesgolf.org before the 31st August.

Course Set-up

Q. Does the course need to be exactly the same for each day if run over multiple days?

A. Tee and hole locations can be changed if it is desirable, however it is recommended that they are not moved more than 2 yards in each instance and does not significantly change the nature of the playing of the hole.

Social Media

Q. How to we tag Wales Golf?

A: Wales Golf can be found on:

- Facebook: @walesgolf
- Twitter: @wales_golf
- Instagram: @walesgolf

Q: How will Wales Golf see my posts?

A: By using the hashtag #WalesBack2Golf and tagging will see your posts!

Q: My club doesn't really use social media, can we still play?

A: Yes you can still run the championship and submit your results. Social media is a great free advertising and marketing tool to promote your golf club. You can still take part in the championship without posting on social media.

Q: Is posting our results on social media enough or do we need to send them via email?

A: We would advise you to promote the championship via social media as much as you like, however, for the purpose of the national competition, results should be emailed to championships@walesgolf.org by the 4th September.
